

Unity on Arms Aid Sought

Agree on the Proposal Made For Compromise On The Program

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 —(AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said a Senate subcommittee agreed today on a compromise of major differences over President Truman's arms aid program.

Connally is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee. Other members of the subcommittee are Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the Senate Armed Services committee, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Senator Gurney (R-S.D.).

"We have agreed," Connally said, but he declined to disclose any details of the agreement until it is laid before the full Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees tomorrow morning.

Connally said the agreement does not cover the question of arms aid to China.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) has been demanding that money for arms to non-Communist China be added to the bill.

Asked about a report that he had agreed to accept $1,000,000,000 as the total amount of arms aid to European members of the Atlantic Pact, Connally declined any comment.

President Truman asked $1,160,000,000 for that purpose. Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, top ranking Republican on the foreign relations committee, wants to hold it to an even $1,000,000,000.

Study by Committee

Connally named himself and three other members of the combined committees to study the plan and report to the full group. The other three are Vandenberg, Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the armed services committee and Senator Gurney (R-S.D.).

Connally said that unity on the arms aid program is "not only of high importance domestically but of high importance to the peace of the world."

"We cannot afford to let our prospective enemies believe there is a serious division in the United States," he declared. "That's their whole strategy — to create division."

Support For Cut

Vandenberg's demand for a cut in proposed aid for western Europe, however, picked up support. Senator Byrd (D-Va.) predicted it would be approved.

Byrd said the Senate might even cut the European program much deeper, slashing it by $380,000,000 as proposed by Senator George (D-Ga.).

But Connally said he is trying for "overwhelming agreement" on his proposal. He said he hopes his "adjustments" will produce a measure that "Congress can approve, that the country can approve and that will meet our obligations under the Atlantic pact."

Connally said his plan deals with the question of helping boost arms production in Atlantic pact countries. But it does not, he said touch on another subject of disagreement — proposed arms aid to non-Communist China. Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) is demanding that such assistance be made a part of the program.

Move to Seal Off Yugoslavia

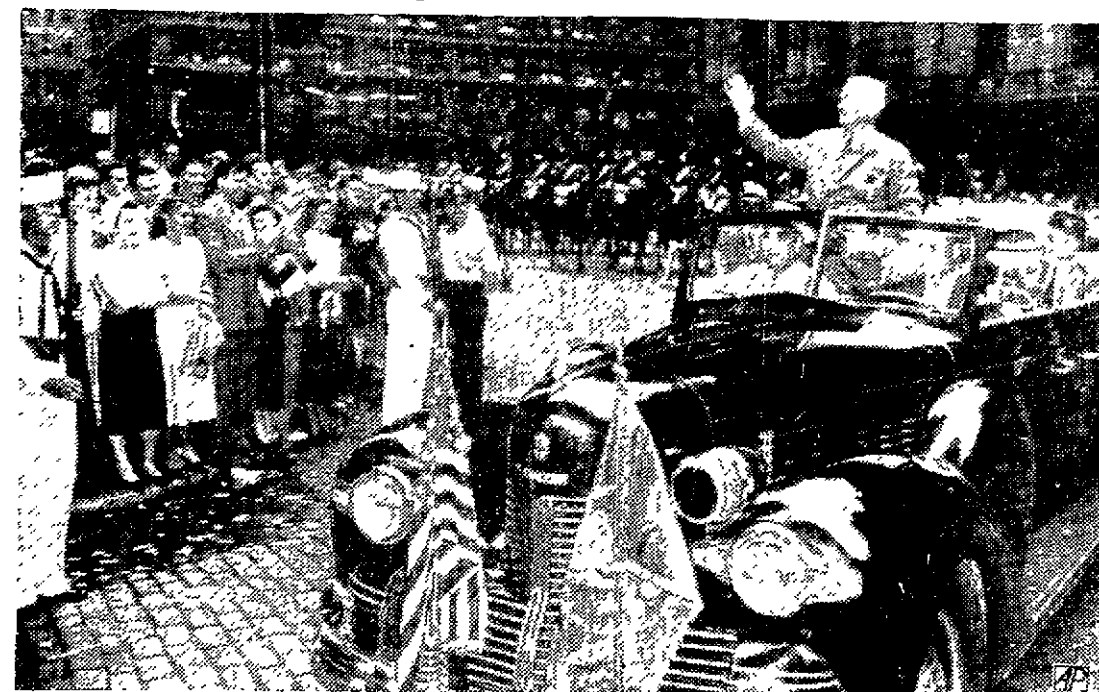

BERLIN, Aug. 30 —(AP)—A Berlin newspaper said today east German police are being sent to the Balkans by Russia to seal off Yugoslavia.

The British licensed Social Democrat said 3,500 heavily armed members of the Volks-Polizei (People's Police) left the Russian zone of Germany for "anti-Tito action" in the Balkans Saturday. It said 12,000 more will be sent.

British and American intelligence officers said they could not confirm the reports.

Social Democrat said the troops wearing uniforms similar to those of the Red army.

Mortar Shell Blast Injures Seven at Fort Leonard

Explodes in Midst Of Guardsmen Under Training

FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo., Aug. 30 —(AP)—Seven National Guardsmen were injured, one seriously, when a mortar shell exploded in their midst late yesterday.

The men, all members of the 138th Infantry and all from the St. Louis area, were on the mortar range during a firing problem. Officers said a shell was accidentally deflected into the group and then exploded.

Most seriously injured was Pvt. Robert Soell, St. Louis, who suffered chest wounds and fractured ribs. He was given emergency first aid on the scene and at the hospital of the 205th Medical Battalion and then taken to the Waynesville general hospital.

He was reported in fairly good condition this morning by Capt. Richard Gunn, Kansas City, commanding the 205th Medical Clearing company.

The others injured were: Cpl. Lawrence C. Sherrill, St. Louis, whose right middle finger was amputated at the first joint; Cpl. Wendell Beans, Jr., St. Louis, who suffered an injury to his right leg; Recruit William A. Haggerty, St. Louis; Pvt. Joe T. Waddock, Jr., Webster Groves, and Recruit Elmer L. Blatz, St. Louis, all of whom suffered slight shrapnel wounds; and Pfc. Lyle P. Murphy, St. Louis, who suffered body scratches.

Beans is in the Waynesville hospital for observation while the others are at the post hospital.

A board of officers under Major Kirk Jeffrey of the 138th Infantry has been appointed to investigate the accident.

Think Escapees In Stolen Car

ROLLA, Mo., Aug. 30 —(AP)—Four men who escaped from the Phelps county jail here yesterday are now believed to be armed and in possession of a stolen car, Sheriff W. B. Lavine reported this morning.

The officer said the quartet has been linked with the theft of a 1941 model automobile from LeComa, which is in Dent county and in the center of last night's search area. The car was taken between 12:30 and 1:30 o'clock this morning, the sheriff said.

Lavine said there were two high-powered rifles and "lots of ammunition" in the auto.

Boston Braves Whipped Cardinals Today 12-4

BOSTON, Aug. 30 —(AP)—Boston's Braves who have rolled over and played dead most of the season for the National league leading Cardinals turned on their tormentors from St. Louis today and defeated them 12-4. The loss whittled a full game off the Cardinals' lead over the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers, who won today. The Cards now have a 1½ game edge over the Brooks.

Crush Anti-Red Movement

Czechs Sentence Six to Deaths Ten to Prison

LONDON, Aug. 30 —(AP)—Soviet Russia, in a new note to Belgrade, accused Premier Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia of working "only on the instructions of its western masters."

By Richard Kasischke

PRAGUE, Aug. 30 —(AP)—The Czechoslovak government announced today it had crushed an anti-Communist underground movement just as the group was preparing to begin an armed revolution.

The official press bureau linked the underground members with "a certain western imperialistic power" but did not identify the western power.

Details of the purported plot were announced after a secret trial at which six persons were condemned to death, 10 given life imprisonment and an unspecified number lesser prison terms. Ten of those tried were acquitted.

The announcement termed the members of the group spies and terrorists and said they were tried on charges of high treason and spying on behalf of the western power "with which they had been in contact."

The government claimed its police had played a cat-and-mouse game with the alleged conspirators and waited until they were all set to begin the revolution before moving in to nab them.

One of those sentenced to death was Josef Charvat, identified by friends as chief of security police here during the first republic. The government said those sentenced included army and police personnel, as well as civilians.

The trial of the group was reported to have lasted several weeks in the Prague state court. The government said many of the accused pleaded guilty.

A "large group" of conspirators was said to have been involved in the abortive putsch.

Date of the attempted coup was not disclosed, but it was reported the group chose a bank holiday "when the working people were at home and unable to mount counter-action."

The announcement said the group was attempting to "prepare an armed conspiracy aimed at crushing the people's democratic regime."

C. of C. Officials Were Somewhat Embarrassed

HERMANN Mo., Aug. 30 —(AP)—Chamber of Commerce officials here were somewhat embarrassed at a drawing last night.

First prize in the chamber-sponsored event went to Sandra Scharnhorst, daughter of the chamber president.

Rebel Planes Drop Shells on LaPaz Airport

DC-3 Transports Driven off by Anti-Aircraft Fire

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Aug. 30 —(AP)—Two rebel planes today dropped mortar shells on the La Paz airport and a nearby military college.

The revolutionists used mortar shells because they have no bombs, a government spokesman said. The shells did no damage, he added.

The planes, DC-3 transports, flew over La Paz itself, but were driven off by anti-aircraft fire.

Meanwhile the government began a draft of all citizens in a fight of survival against the spreading rightist revolution.

Reservists, 20 to 24, were called to the colors in La Paz and orders for mobilization have been issued to all men 19 to 50.

They will be called upon to fight the revolt against the middle-of-the-road government which broke out in scattered sections Saturday and now controls all of Bolivia's large cities except La Paz.

Greatest government efforts so far have been directed against Cochabamba, a city of 90,000 southeast of La Paz, where the rebels are strongly entrenched.

Airforce planes bombed the town yesterday for the third time, but reports said they did little damage. The raids terrorized the inhabitants, however, and indignation against the act seems to have added new recruits to the rebellion.

Miss Truman Not Include State Song

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 30 —(AP)—Miss Margaret Truman let it be known today she doesn't like the Missouri Waltz, recently adopted as the official Missouri state song.

While changing trains here en route from Independence to New York, she confided to reporters the new state song won't be included in her repertoire for a 25-city concert tour this fall.

"I don't care if I never hear it again," she said "It was greatly overworked at every whistle stop during the campaign last fall."

A former opera singer, Mrs. W. R. Dickerson, spent the week-end with her brother and his wife. Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Smithpeter, of 1018 State Fair boulevard Mrs. Dickerson, who at the present time is residing at Excelsior Springs, stopped in Sedalia en route to Chicago.

A former pupil of Belle Forbes Catler, Mrs. Dickerson also studied under Edward Collins. Richard Hagaman and Franty Prochaski.

Services on Lawn While Church is Under Padlock

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 30 —(AP)—The Walnut Street Christian church remained padlocked today in a controversy over the selection of a pastor.

Worshippers arriving at the new brick church Sunday found all three outside doors padlocked. Alongside the padlocks were notices saying a "minority group" was trying to "take over" the church. They were signed by the three trustees, C. C. Goodman, J. S. Rutledge and A. J. Doonan.

Later the Rev. Roy Fields of the Central Christian church said differences had arisen between the church board and the congregation over the selection of a pastor.

Mr. Fields, who said his advice had been asked, condemned the padlocking as "un-Christian and domineering."

Trustee Goodman defended the action of the trustees on the grounds that it was done to prevent disturbances that would "disgrace the church."

Meanwhile plans were made to hold services on the church lawn until the building is opened.

"We'll do everything in our power to get it open," said Hubert Glasgow, a member of the 12-man church board.

But he added, "we haven't decided how we will go about it."

Twelve Hour Parade For The Legion

Cheering Acclaim By a Million On Line of March By Over 30,000

By Lee Linder

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30 —(AP)—A gay task force of gaudily dressed American legionnaires began a 12-hour parade maneuver today to capture Philadelphia.

Drums rolled, bugles blared, strutting girls in pretty costumes twirled batons. Martial tunes filled the air. So did confetti and ticker tape — and the cheering applause of a million Philadelphiaans and visitors.

The Quaker City surrendered happily to the invasion — the Legion's 31st annual convention parade.

Hours before the march began crowds gathered along the five-mile route.

Part by Military Units

U. S. military and naval units led off the march directly behind the Legion's parade marshals. The crack 116-man Army band moved like a precision machine up Broad street to city hall and the reviewing stand.

Paratroopers, Wacs, Marines, sailors and national guardsmen stepped in unison to the martial music.

The massed colors of the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the Panama Canal Zone were carried by a battalion of military policemen.

Before the parade ends, about midnight, more than 30,000 persons and some 160 drum and bugle corps will have filed past the reviewing stand.

Legion departments proud of their state's history, displayed their favorite symbols — corn for Iowa, "rebel yells" and beautiful girls from Mississippi, and Texas sombreros.

About 85 on Farm Tour

Pettis county farmers, members of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, farm agents and other folks interested in the cause of successful farming, numbering about 85, circled Pettis county today, when they went on a Balanced Farm tour to farm homes, which have made several improvements as a result of being a member of Balanced Farming.

Highlights and improvements of the farms were pointed out to the group on the tour. The party ate their box lunches under the shade trees surrounding the Monsees farm home, located south of Smithton.

The first farm toured was that of Julian H. Bagby, located near Green Ridge. This farm is managed by Forrest Miller. Other farms visited today were owned by: Olen Monsees, south of Smithton; C. S. Arnold, three miles west of Hughesville; W. J. Ficken, near Smithton; Harry Runge of Sedalia, route 4.

Care For Hay of An Ill Farmer

Incapacitation doesn't always hinder a farmer from taking care of his seasonal crops, especially if he has good neighbors and friends willing to pitch in and lend a hand.

And this is what is taking place on the Otto Tubising farm, located north of Ionia. Monday, about 35 men and five mowers cut 60 acres of hay, and today these same men and six ballers are baling it.

Even the women volunteered their services. Today's dinner was served by the Ladies' Aid of the North Lincoln Lutheran church, of which Mr. Tubising is a member.

Mr. Tubising was operated on for a brain tumor about 18 months ago, and has not been able to work since that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Tubising have a daughter, who is of high school age.

'Children Cheaper by Dozen'—A Full Jury

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 30 —(AP)—Circuit Judge James F. Nangle says children are cheaper by the dozen — a full jury. A 12th child was born to his wife yesterday. It's a boy and gives the Nangles a balanced family of six boys and six girls.

"The more you have the cheaper they are," the judge said. "It's easier to budget that way."

Nangle, who is 45, makes $9,000 a year. His wife is 40 years old.

Trend up on Employment

Job Situation Not As Bad in State As in Many Others

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 30 —(AP)—The State Division of Employment Security reported today the job situation is not so bad in Missouri as in other parts of the United States.

In fact the employment trend has started back up, according to Charles A. Ricker, director of employment security for Missouri.

"From the standpoint of employment Missouri appears to be one of the brightest spots in the country," Ricker said. "The downward trend in available jobs was halted in May and turned upward in June."

During the week of June 11, Ricker said, the per cent of jobless persons in Missouri was 4.4 the national rate for the same period was 6.2 per cent.

And for June there were 1,060,500 Missourians working in jobs covered by the report (exclusive of agricultural workers, domestic servants, those in the armed services and those who work for themselves.) The comparative figure for May was nearly 4,000 less.

Missouri represents three per cent of the national labor force but only 1.5 per cent of the nation's jobless are Missourians. On the other hand, employment this year is lower than in 1948. In the first seven months of this year, $13,335,574 was paid out in unemployment compensation. That was within $136,000 of the total paid out in the entire 12 months of 1948.

Improvements For Teen Town

A meeting of the Junior Teen Town Board was held Monday night with the president Lawrence Cottingham presiding.

The board has brought about many changes which will make this 1949-50 Teen Town the best Sedalia has ever had.

Among some of the things to be done is the redecorating and repainting of the interior and the enlarging of the dance floor. The furniture will be repaired, too, and the entire room will present an attractive appearance in teen age style.

Teen Town this year will also have its own band headed by Bill Mathews.

Officers for the year are Lawrence Cottingham, president; Margaret Handley, vice president; and Wilma Schilb, secretary-treasurer.

Teen Town membership cards will be $1.00 for the year and the sale of the cards will start on September 16.

Bathhouse is Nearly Finished

The progress on the two swimming pools under construction in Sedalia is looking good according to Reeves and Schupp, who were in Sedalia on a monthly inspection tour.

According to W. R. Blackwell, resident engineer, the bathhouse at the Liberty Park pool is nearly completed. Roofers finished their work today, and outside of installing some glass, the outside work is finished.

Over half the sidewalks have been placed around the pool, and concrete for the wading pool will be poured at Liberty Park this week.

At the Hubbard Park pool, about one-third of the sidewalks are completed, and the roof joist for the bathhouse are ready for placement.

Mostly all construction work is anticipated to be completed by the end of September. Remaining work consists mostly of concrete pouring and painting of the pool.

Withdraw Offer to Mediate

NEW YORK, Aug. 30 —(AP)—President Truman's steel fact-finding board today withdrew its offer to mediate the steel dispute after the industry had indicated that such talks must be conducted on an individual company basis.

Arizona and Texas Had Hot Spots

CHICAGO, Aug. 30 —(AP)—Mostly fair and pleasant weather was in prospect for most of the country today.

There were only a few wet spots early today. Thunderstorms were reported in northern Illinois, southern Iowa and the central plains.

The warmest weather is in the southern states and the interior sections of the far west. The cool spots included the Dakotas, where the mercury was in the 40's early today, and in northern New England, which reported readings in the 50's. Yesterday's highs included 112 at Yuma, Ariz., 110 at Phoenix, Ariz., and 98 at San Antonio, Tex.

Wheels in The Factories Whiz Faster

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK, Aug. 30 —(AP)—For the first time since last November the wheels in America's mills and factories are turning faster.

After eight steady months of falling output, the industrial pace has quickened in August, the Federal Reserve Board says today.

Flanking this pleasant news are reports of increasing steel production, record auto output, reviving department store sales in New York City, and return of workers to refrigerator plants where a spurt in orders is boosting output.

The August revival should bring industrial production back to about the rate of June, the Federal Reserve Board says, the sharp drop in July was chalked up largely to a postwar development (the board hasn't yet taken into account when adjusting its index to seasonal factors—the spread of the vacation habit through industry).

Many factories were closed down part of the time in July for vacations.

As a result, the index took a steep drop, from 169 in June to 162 in July. The index, using the 1935-39 average as 100, reached its peak last November at 195, and then started skidding.

The other villain in "July was the plunge in steel production. The steel mills operated at 82 per cent of capacity during June, but dropped to an average of 71 per cent of capacity during July.

Steel Output Up

Here, too, the board notes happy days in August, reporting steel output back to an average of 83 per cent of capacity. The gains increased as the month went along. The American Iron and Steel Institute estimates that this final week will find the mills running at 86.3 per cent of capacity, their best rate since mid-June.

How much of this is due to a real business pick-up and how much to customers stocking up in fear of a steel strike next month, no one will say for sure.

Price cuts and hot weather brought homeowners into the appliance stores in sufficient quantity to cut refrigerator inventories, and output in the plants is being stepped up again. The National Appliance and Radio Dealers' Association is even talking about the short supply of the cooling boxes. It says they'll be scarce until October, when production will have caught up again.

New York department stores report sales last week were six per cent above the like week in 1948. It has been 20 weeks since they could report any gain over the previous year.

The board makes no guess as to the trend in August, but many businessmen expect that "this month's figures will show that sales of manufacturing companies picked up this month, along with their production schedules."

Hodges Faced Dodgers to A 4-3 Victory Over Pirates

BROOKLYN, Aug. 30 —(AP)—Gil Hodges hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning today to pace the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 4-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

And he said the impression that he (Vaughan) had told the State Department that the president was interested was the result of second or third hand conversations.

Senator O'Connor (D-Md.) confronted Vaughan with a copy of the Aug. 3, 1945, letter, which bears the following notation below:

"Col. Vaughan informed Mrs. Shipley that the president is per-

Help Given Business Men; Truman Not Advised on Some

By Oliver W. De Wolf

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 —(AP)—Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan acknowledged today that he collected campaign money in 1946 from some of the business men he helped in dealings with the government.

He said he got $2,000 or $3,000 from race track owner William Helis, who sought Vaughan's aid in 1948 in getting a permit for scarce building materials for the Tanforan (Calif.) race track.

And, Vaughan said, he "probably" got $2,000 from John Maragon, Washington man-about-town and one time employee of a Chicago perfume company.

Vaughan, the president's military aide, was in the chair of the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Flatly and repeatedly, he denied there was anything improper in anything he did for any business man—or that he ever received any fee, gift or favor in return for his aid.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) said at one point he felt that "Vaughan did not personally profit financially" from his assistance to persons who have figured in the inquiry.

But he demanded that Vaughan produce for the committee the names of all persons from whom he received money for campaign purposes, the exact amounts and the disposition of the money.

Vaughan had testified that he thought the Maragon and Helis contributions had gone to the Missouri Democratic campaign.

He was still being questioned about this when Chairman Hoyer (D-N.C.) ordered a recess until 8 a. m. (CST) Wednesday. Vaughan will return to the witness chair then.

QUONSET HUT HITS THE ROAD—The owners of this 100-foot-long quonset hut, used as an auto body shop, needed it moved across the Cooper River at Camden, N. J. So they lashed it up on rollers and took it down the highway and ferried it across the stream. A dozen men completed the 300-yard road trip in less than an hour.

ENTHRONED ON SHELLS—Girls who will participate in National Seafood Festival, Sept. 16-17, at Hampton, Va., are pictured atop a mammoth pile of oyster shells. Top to bottom are: Eleanor Pais, Shirley Brewer, Vivian Groome, Jackie Dederich, Carleen Sultan and Jean Cooper.

SITE OF CAPITAL FAIR—Open space behind the National Guard armory (left center) will be covered by Fair buildings in 1950 celebration of Washington's 150th anniversary.

World's Double-Deck Roof Studied

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—(AP)—The zone where guided missiles will travel has a double-deck roof, completely around the earth. The lower deck is a layer of air filled with electrons and is about 18 miles thick. The upper is about 60 miles thick, made of the same kind of air. The lower deck is about 100 miles above ground, the upper about 150. The electrons are the same stuff that form the current in electric wires.

The Pennsylvania State College is studying this roof for the U. S. Air Force, because the layers affect long-range guided missiles. Little is known about their effects on the electronic controls of a flying bomb.

The double decks are fixed in position, but fluctuate up and down. The heights and densities (the amount of floating electrons) are different at night than in day. They also vary for other, irregular causes. They are broken at times by magnetic storms from the sun. The northern lights, or auroras, also give the decks a beating. All these changes are recorded at Penn State.

Fights Murder Charge Over Poison Death

Hearing For Woman Charge With Killing Mother With Arsenic

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 30—(P)—Brunette Mrs. Clarice Spurlock, fighting a murder charge in the poison death of her mother, was confronted in circuit court with a toxicologist's report that arsenic also was found in her father's body.

Dr. Robert E. Farney, Indiana university poison expert, made the first disclosure that "an enormous dose" of poison was found in Winter Dearing's body, exhumed last week.

"He could not possibly have lived" after the poison entered his body, Dr. Farney testified in a preliminary hearing on the charge against the 28-year-old housewife.

It had been reported previously that five grains of arsenic were found in Mrs. Dearing's body.

Mrs. Dearing died last Nov. 16, five hours after being removed from the Spurlock home to a hospital. Her husband died April 5 after visiting the Spurlocks.

The hearing was scheduled over defense objections. Mrs. Spurlock is being held on an affidavit charging first-degree murder.

Defense attorneys brought out in the preliminary hearing that Mrs. Spurlock did not object to moving her mother to a hospital and that the mother apparently died most of the cooking in the Spurlock's fashionable suburban home.

Dr. R. J. Rossow, who treated Mrs. Dearing, said Mrs. Dearing herself objected to going to the hospital. He said he was "under the impression" that Mrs. Spurlock thought her mother should be hospitalized.

TOO NEAR A MISS—Bus driver Harry Hassen was too shocked and exhausted to look at what happened when his Bayonne, N. J., bus struck a bicycle ridden by 13-year-old Vincent Modafieri. Hassen, seen through the bus window, buried his face in his hands. But a hospital check-up showed the bike rider suffered only minor cuts and shock in the near-tragic accident.

so startled that she spun around and the butcher knife in her hand sliced him.

Yugoslavia Asks For Loan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30—(P)—Yugoslavia has formally applied to the Export-Import Bank for an American Loan, government officials disclosed.

This marks the first time Marshall Tito has appealed directly to the United States for financial help since he split with Moscow nearly 15 months ago.

Secretary of State Acheson is understood to be strongly supporting the Yugoslav request as a means of helping Tito combat the tight economic blockade imposed by Russia and her satellites.

Officials said the Yugoslav government wants around $25,000,000 (M) to buy American mining machinery and equipment for its lead, copper and zinc mines.

Under the proposal, the loan would be repaid by Yugoslav shipments of strategic metals to the United States. Lead, Copper and zinc are among the materials being stockpiled by the United States for use in the event of an emergency.

To Construct Houses For State Institutions

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 30—(P)—Construction on 14 residences at the Mt. Vernon Tuberculosis Sanatorium and Hospital No. 2 at St. Joseph will be started within the next two weeks, Samuel Marsh reported Monday.

Marsh is head of the state department of health and welfare. Successful bidder on nine brick veneer houses for doctors at Mt. Vernon was Ozark Construction Company of Joplin with a $160,435 figure. The houses will contain two and three bedrooms, Marsh said.

For five similar houses at the St. Joseph institution, Koch-Schroeder Construction Company of St. Joseph was low. The bid was 106,818.

Money for the buildings was appropriated by the legislature a year ago and re-appropriated this year.

and Robert Montgomery, St. Louis.

The Sedalia boy had been serving a term of four years for abusing an aged man near Beaman.

Well-Greased Truman-Barkley Machine Runs Over Opposition

By Peter Edson
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, August 30 — The Democratic national committee meeting which elected William M. Boyle, Jr., as its new national chairman, provided a first-class example of how a well-oiled political machine should run. Also, how it should run over anybody that gets in its road.

The meeting was called for 10 a. m., but it didn't begin till nearly 11. None of these things ever starts on time. It makes no difference because, when the machine is in perfect working order, it can rush things through so fast it makes up for lost time.

Also, the delay enabled the delegates to wander around and find where they were supposed to sit. During the night, flunkies had typewritten the names of the national committeemen and committeewomen on slips of paper. These were pasted on the backs of the chairs. Some of them had come off and fallen to the floor. One young man was kept busy, as the delegates gathered, going around and sticking them back on again.

Some of the labels, it was noticed, had names of states on them, but no names of national committeemen. Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina. How could this be? Had they all died? Had that hurricane hit them? No, they had just all been run over by the machine. The Democratic, Truman-Barkley machine. This machine didn't want the Dixiecrat committeemen from those states included for this election, so it just left their names off their chairs.

Grass Roots Democracy

When the meeting was finally called to order and the roll was called as the first order of business, the names of the states whose committeemen were not wanted were merely skipped. Louisiana and Mississippi were practically read right out of the party. This in what is supposed to be the democratic process—full, free, open and fair elections by representatives of the pee-pul.

A short time ago, a marvelous new electronic brain and calculating machine was unveiled at Department of Agriculture. In seconds, it could solve complicated problems that would take the human brain years.

But this Democratic party machine had that scientific gadget beat a mile. Why, this Democratic machine even turned out the answers before it knew what the problem was.

For instance, retiring national chairman J. Howard McGrath appointed some committees. A committee on credentials, for instance: Chairman Frank McHale of Indiana, David Lawrence of Pennsylvania, Jonathan Daniels of North Carolina, and so on.

The strange thing was that although this committee was appointed right there before your eyes, it had already been in session for 12 hours. It wound up its business at 3 a. m. on the morning of the full national committee meeting, with all its work done. Not even an electronic brain could beat that.

An Exclusive Affair

What this machine committee did was simply to kick out those Dixiecrat national committeemen who hadn't supported the campaign of President Truman in the last election. Ousted were Marion Rushton of Alabama, William H. Talbot of Louisiana, J. B. Snider and Mrs. Hermes Gautier of Mississippi, J. Strom Thurmond and Mrs. Albert Agnew of South Carolina.

The brief effort by Byron C. Allen of Minnesota to kick out national committeeman Wright Morrow and Mrs. H. H. Weinert of Texas, the machine refused to consider.

Retiring Chairman McGrath ruled that national committeemen were officers of the Democratic national convention, holding four-year terms between conventions. He said there was no rule which compelled the national committee to follow the recommendations of the states as to who its members should be.

The final miracle which the Democratic machine performed was in electing Bill Boyle of Missouri as the new chairman to succeed Senator — now Attorney General — McGrath. Before Boyle had even been nominated, the machine had turned out a five-page biography on him.

Before the second speeches were concluded, Democratic publicity chief Jack Redding brought around notices that Boyle would hold a press conference at 5:30 that same afternoon.

The instant Boyle had been unanimously elected, Redding's assistant, Sam Brightman, brought around copies of his 2000-word acceptance speech. Sam said with a smile it was just a coincidence he had it ready. You can't ask for slicker machine work than that.

The fat man is easiest to live with because he forgives readily. He is the least likely to want a divorce . . . He is a tender and faithful lover . . . He's easier to persuade to do the dishes, the vacuuming and get up in the night to look after the baby.—Dr. James F. Bender, director of the National Institute for Human Relations.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
Marine General's Order to Create Private Grade School Starts Rumpus

By Robert S. Allen

(Ed. Note — While Drew Pearson is on vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by his old partner, Robert S. Allen.)

WASHINGTON, August 30 — Now the Marines seem to have caught the public-furor fever.

The famed fighting corps has been serenely out of the limelight while Army, Navy and Air Force brasshats have starred nervously before sensational congressional probes. But Marine Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine has changed all that down in San Diego.

He has succeeded in stirring up a furious tumult in the area.

The scrappy San Diego Journal is gnashing its teeth at Erskine in boxcar headlines, county and state officials are blasting him as high-handed martinet, and Congressman Clinton D. McKinnon is demanding a public investigation. Alarmed Defense Secretary Louis Johnson has rushed an assistant to the city to check on the matter.

Cause of the uproar was Erskine's order to use Navy funds to set up a private grade school in Camp Pendleton, which he commands. Local and state educational authorities hotly contend this is contrary to California law. They also charge Erskine with being rude and autocratic.

He argues he acted within his rights.

To this, Dr. John S. Carroll, county superintendent of schools, retorted, "General Erskine is nicking the public purse to set up an independent school system in a state whose constitution already provides a public school system. His action is basically un-American. The general apparently carries too much brass to waste his time on mere civilians."

Adding fuel to the noisy clash is the fact that this is not the first time Erskine has rowed with local authorities.

They crossed swords last year over a bus franchise. Oceanside, which adjoins Camp Pendleton, established a bus line to serve families of the post living in the town. Under arrangements imposed by Erskine, the bus line operated in the red for months. Then, abruptly, he barred the municipal buses entirely and granted an exclusive franchise to an outside private company.

Erskine's legal officer at the time was Marine Capt. William H. Daubney. Two weeks later, Daubney appeared before the Oceanside city council as the civilian attorney of the private company.

In this capacity, he offered to buy out the municipal system on conditions his concern got a 10-year exclusive franchise.

Renovated Capitol

Despite a protracted local building workers' strike, renovation of the Senate and House chambers will be completed by December 15, the deadline date. Under spurring of capitol architects, the lost time has already been made up.

Power Fight

There was some dizzy voting when the Senate restored the President's public power program that the appropriations committee ripped out of the interior department's budget bill.

One instance was Sen. Harry Cain, R., Wash. who went firmly down the line against the projects. He is the first senator from his state in 21 years to oppose public power developments. The last was Sen. Miles Poindexter, defeated in 1928.

Another instance was the dizzy votes of Sens. Zales Ecton, R., Mont., and Richard Russell, D., Ga. Their balloting cleared up a long standing mystery.

Last winter, during the civil-rights fight, Ecton boited his fellow Republicans and sided with the Dixiecrats. His action caused a lot of eyebrow-raising. Russell's vote against the Hungry Horse power project in Montana revealed it was in payment for Ecton's earlier support.

A strong private utility adherent, Ecton opposed the Hungry Horse, public power program. Russell voted for all the other disputed projects. But on Hungry Horse, he lined up with the Montana Power & Light company as his part of the deal with Ecton.

Note — Chief credit for the administration's smashing victory on the power issue belongs to Sen. Lister Hill, D., Ala., who masterminded the smart parliamentary strategy, and Sens. Robert Kerr, D., Okla., and Lyndon Johnson, D., Texas, who led the floor battle.

I can sum up Miss and Mrs. America's clothes for next year as being slimmer and bustier than last season's. The whole silhouette has been pushed up and broadened in the shoulders, either by scarf drapes or those winged collars.—Fred Mayer, in Paris buying models for a chain of American retail stores.

Congress should get information from the people best fitted to testify rather than being spoon-fed and given white papers by the administration.—Sen. William F. Knowland (R) Calif., referring to the "white paper on China."

We have repeatedly recognized in this country that the first priority of the joint defense is our ability to deliver the atomic bomb.—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, statutory chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

I am firm in my belief that there shall be no pressure brought to bear by any church against the proper operations of the government and that there shall be recognition of the fact that all citizens may express their views freely on questions of public interest.—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

If Mother-in-Law Moves in, A Young Couple Must Plan

When a mother-in-law moves in with a young couple does the pattern of their marriage have to change?

A young wife, whose husband feels his widowed mother should be invited to move in with them, asks me to answer that question.

The answer of course is "Yes."

The marriage pattern has to change. Where there was only a couple to be considered before, there will be three involved in all future plans and arrangements.

Companionship between husband and wife will become less carefree if there is an older person always around—at breakfast, at dinner, in the evenings.

New problems will come up that the couple will have to face and solve.

But that doesn't mean that no young couple should ever take a mother-in-law in to live with them.

There are many cases where that is the only workable solution to a problem. It's all very well to say that the mother who is widowed should live her own life in her own home and leave the young folks alone.

She May Need You

But she may not have enough money to maintain her own home, and the young folks may not have enough to help maintain her in a separate establishment.

Or she may be too old to live alone. Or her health may be poor so that she needs some looking after.

So if there is a good reason why your husband feels he should ask his mother to live with you, don't object until you have thought the matter through.

Remember that sharing your home with another person is not the only thing that can change your marriage. Some of the closeness will go out of it if your husband comes to feel that you are so lacking in kindness, understanding and generosity that you won't share your home with his mother.

So face your problem squarely. And if you do decide your husband is right and you ask his mother to come and live with you, make up your mind that you will work out a new pattern for your marriage that is as happy a one as possible. And be generous enough to make sure that the two of you don't shut your husband's mother out so completely that what you are doing for the welfare gives her no happiness at all.

The Doctor Says
Poison Ivy Easily Contracted In Winter as Well as Summer

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

There is more trouble with poison ivy during the summer than at other times of the year only because more people are out-of-doors in warm weather. The stalk, however, is dangerous in winter also and it cannot be recognized so easily when the leaves are off.

Everyone should learn to recognize this plant and its typical three-pointed leaf. Even those who seem to avoid difficulty easily should not be careless as the time may come when they themselves fall victims. Doctors often see people who are astonished at having poison ivy because "they never got it before."

The poison ivy plant contains an oil which is extremely irritating to the skin. This oil, even in small quantities, can cause blistering. It can be carried by the fingers from one part of the body to another. Hence rubbing or scratching of the itching skin should be avoided.

Soap Helpful

If there is any suspicion of having come in contact with poison ivy one should wash the area with soap and water two or three times, rinsing carefully after each washing.

There are several lotions and ointments which are useful in combating ivy poisoning, but when a large area is involved, a doctor's advice should be obtained. For small skin irritations crystals of potassium permanganate can be dissolved in water and applied to the skin. This has the disadvantage of staining the skin dark brown. Calamine lotion is also used a great deal.

Some doctors believe that an extract of poison ivy which can be given by injection is helpful in prevention. There is some difference of opinion about this, however, and while it is useful for some, it does not seem to help others.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS
By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

QUESTION: My husband formerly stuttered frequently now only occasionally. Can this stuttering be inherited by my baby which is expected shortly.

ANSWER: Stuttering is probably not inherited. Children, however, are great imitators and copying a loved parent in speech as well as in other respects for a while would not be surprising.

STEPS TO THE MOON

By ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES
Copyright by Hillman-Curl, Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Gaynel Teare's family, including Emily, her mother, Pat, her younger sister, and Danny, her brother, expects Gaynel to marry Barry Bainbridge, a young millionaire, someday. But Gaynel is also fond of Fritz Freyman, who is not a millionaire. Gaynel's mother, once well-to-do, occupies herself with various fads, the current one being the Little Theater movement. Now, after the production of a play, Gaynel, her family, and the Little Theater cast are vacationing on Barry's yacht off Mackinac Island. Barry has just repeated that he wants Gaynel to accept his proposal, even if for no reason but the size of his bank account.

XIV

GAYNEL knew that Barry could almost give her the moon, if not literally, in luxuries and material possessions. Were they what counted most? What she wanted? Odd she should think now of Fritz. She had not thought of him—deliberately—during these long, lazy, heavenly weeks. Had he given her a thought or two while she was gone? Would he ever kiss her again—in that same way? He could not give her much. Only fun and adventure, laughter and make-believe. Were they the things that counted more? The things that money could not buy. She had to be sure. About so many things. No one else could answer these questions, decide for her. . . .

The others were coming back now in the motor boat. Barry went below to help them out. Gaynel could hear her mother waxing enthusiastic over their day and going into great detail. Miss Cupples' prim voice contributed a remark or two; Melvin added his guffaw, that always sounded like part of his act. They were all coming up. . . .

Just in time for a cocktail—how lovely! Oh, there you are, darling!

GAYNEL swooped down on Gaynel, giving her cheek an affectionate peck. "You haven't been just lying here all day! You'll have a sunstroke yet, darling, though it's lovely up here now, simply lovely, now that the sun's gone round. And you aren't wearing your dark glasses! Haven't I told you, darling, you'll ruin your eyes. . . .

"Come on up, Miss Pierce. You won't fall, though I do feel the same way. . . . Why is it, Barry dear, boats have ladders for steps? I knew a woman who fell off one once and broke her neck. Give Miss Pierce a hand, Melvin. And I do think they're bad luck, ladders, I mean, though goodness knows I'm not superstitious, unless it's black cats. . . .

"The Island is too divine, isn't it, Melvin? One cocktail won't hurt you, Miss Pierce. Not one little one. Cuppy, dear, I wonder if you'd mind fetching a scarf for me, I think it's going to be chilly, especially after these delightful iced drinks. . . . Do pour Miss Pierce one, Barry dear. We've all had such a day. . . . you should have gone along, Gaynel. . . . it's too quaint, only horses, no automobiles allowed, imagine that! I can still hear that clap-clap beating in my ears over the cobblestones—the horses' hoofs, I mean." Really exhausted after this lengthy monologue, she sank down in a stoneware chair. Melvin adjusted the back for her, got her a cushion, and a robe for across her knees.

Barry poured Miss Pierce a cocktail, which she insisted, after one hasty gulp, already made her head dizzy, she admitted she liked it; she even liked the dizzy feeling, now that she was getting used to it. Miss Cupples came back up with the scarf and said she would have plain lemonade, if you please; she had never tasted anything alcoholic in her life.

Gaynel said, "Where's Pat?" Her mother said she had gone to her stateroom. "The poor child looked rather green. If you know what I mean. No doubt she stayed in the pool too long, though goodness knows I warned her, but she doesn't always listen to me."

GAYNEL got up. "I think I'll go down!"—it might be well to take a look at Pat; sometimes she did get ill from the water—"if you'll excuse me. No thanks, Barry, no more, or my head will get light." She went down to the stateroom she shared with Pat.

It was dark. Pat was sprawled on the lower bunk. But even in the dim light, Gaynel could see something was wrong with her.

"What is it?" she asked, her voice sharp with fear. She knelt down beside her, felt her head. It was hot and feverish; her skin peculiarly damp. "Are you ill, Pat?"

"A little," Pat admitted. She made a face as though she had had a bad pain. "I guess I did stay in too long, Gay. Though I came out once or twice. Or maybe it was the chocolate bars. I ate two, in between. . . .

"You shouldn't. Food and water don't mix. You know that, Pat." Probably a good old-fashioned tummy-ache, Gaynel thought, with a let-down of relief. Lucky she hadn't had cramps when she was swimming.

"Maybe it wasn't that," Pat said. "Melvin, the worm, made a grab for me when we were swimming. Tried to kiss me. He's enough to make anyone sick. I slapped his face for him."

Pat's face twisted with pain again. "Ooooh!" she gasped. "It's pretty bad, Sis. It's right here. Not in my tummy. Lower." She showed Gaynel where. Her right side, very low down.

Gaynel's face went white now. She straightened up. Fear gripped her again. "You're sure it's right there?" she asked. The doctor had told them last year when Pat had had a similar attack that her appendix was none too good. Surely it could not be that now. Way off here, out in a big lake, no doctors or hospitals close by.

"I'm . . . sure," Pat managed, her body writhed with the pain now; her face did look green. "It's worse. . . . like a knife. . . . and I'm going to be sick, Gay. . . . terribly sick. . . ."

XV

AFTER Gaynel had taken care of her sister Pat, she thought it safe to leave her a moment. The pain must be terrible. Something would have to be done at once. "Lie as quiet as you can, honey," she whispered. She must not let Pat see how afraid she was. "I'll be right back."

She would get Barry aside. No use alarming the others. Emily would have a case of nerves; the rest would be of no actual help. Thank God, there was Barry. He would know what to do. He was always there to go to, depend on. Pat's groans, increasing in volume and frequency now, followed her as she ran.

Barry said, "I'll go over to the Island right away. I'll go myself. There must be a doctor stopping at the hotel." He took her two hands in his, squeezed them tightly, as though to give her the confidence he felt. "Meanwhile, don't you worry. Tell the others I've gone to make arrangements for the dinner. Get Francis to send you plenty of ice and towels. We'll do everything for Pat there is to be done, if it's as bad as you fear, Gaynel."

It was every bit that bad. The doctor Barry brought back in what seemed like an eternity to Gaynel as she fixed and changed ice packs, said there was no question that it was the appendix. An acute attack. An immediate operation was absolutely urgent. Or he could not guarantee the consequences.

"You mean . . . it's got to come out—there's nothing else we can do?" Gaynel tried to hold her voice steady. They had gone outside the stateroom. Barry had got Miss Cupples to come stay with Pat. The others would have to know pretty soon. First she and Barry must decide what was to be done.

THE doctor said that was the situation. The appendix might burst.

"Well, not take any such chance." It was easy to decide that. "If only Doctor Carlie could operate. He understands Pat's condition. He's such a wonderful surgeon. . . ."

"The best will be none too good." The doctor's tone was gravely significant.

"You mean you can't do it?" Gaynel's eyes widened with fear. "That there's no one on the Island. . . . no hospital we could reach. . . . Oh, Barry, what shall we do?" She turned to him, grasped his sleeve as though for support; she felt, in fact, as though she were faint. This was much more than she had counted on, been prepared to meet.

"Then that's what we'll have," Barry made this decision. "The best. I'll radio for a Coast Guard amphibian, or if we can't get that, a private one. Another radio to Doctor Carlie will take care of the rest."

"Oh, Barry." She could not thank him. She clung to him. She might have known he would not fail her, ever. There was no one like him.

"Run along and get ready." He gave her a little push, gently; his eyes saying he did not expect thanks. "You'll want to go with her, of course. Leave everything else to me, my dear."

Pat was sleeping; the doctor had given her something to deaden the pain. Her hair was all awry; the scarlet lips drawn and pinched; the sweet young face so still and white. She looked as she might look in death. Gaynel dropped by her side, buried her head for a moment, shaking with sobs she tried in vain to suppress. Her little sister . . . if anything happened to her. . . . Oh, she could not bear it. . . . could not bear even the possibility of such a thought.

BARRY sent word the amphibian could make it in less than an hour. A radio had been received it was on its way; they had been fortunate in reaching the Coast Guard. The hospital had been reached, too; Doctor Carlie would have everything in readiness.

Gaynel shed her shorts, got into some clothes, packed a bag. She would sit by Pat now; she was beginning to stir and strike out blindly and murmur short incoherent phrases.

Miss Cupples had another patient; Emily had collapsed when Barry had broken the news to her. Gaynel would have to see this through alone.

Not alone, either, it seemed, after the big plane had been set down by the side of the yacht and Pat had been lowered in the dory by the davits and Gaynel prepared to climb in, too. She turned first to give her hand to Barry, to try once more to express the deep gratitude she felt. She said, "Good-by—and thanks," trying to smile for him the best she could, to show him the things in her heart that could not be put into words just then.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Aug. 30—(AP)—"The bared bosom is here to stay" says designer Meredith Peterson, whose fall and winter collection of plunging necklines is evidence of her belief.

"I deliberately play up the bosom," says Miss Peterson. "And why not?" she asked. "It's woman's greatest appeal. Of course, every woman can't wear a plunging neckline but it's a great thing for those who can get away with it."

"All the plunges on my dresses are convertible. So, if the woman is modest, or just can't wear a dress cut so low, she can stitch the slit up to a more comfortable height."

Miss Peterson is currently exhibiting her collection in a series of daily showings at the House of Meredith. Besides her low cut gowns which can be seamed up, she has a dress called "bottom button" which may be buttoned up (or unbuttoned) at the wearer's discretion.

Three Killed As Bus Collides With Automobile

CHESTERTON, Ind., Aug. 30—(AP)—A westbound Greyhound bus collided head-on with an automobile near here late Monday, killing three persons in the car and seriously injuring at least one bus passenger.

Twenty-seven of the 32 bus passengers were shaken and bruised.

Two of the dead were identified as Archie Rubberg McIntyre, 67, of South Bend, and his wife, Lillian Mae McIntyre, 63.

The third victim was an unidentified man about 70 years old.

Horseshoe Forge Shoes No Horses

LEXINGTON, Mass.—(AP)—Fulton Brown's horseshoe forge here is one of the largest sellers of horseshoes in the world. But none of the shoes are used to shoe horses.

The business is built around foot scrapers, anvils, namples for houses and other metal devices which are fashioned mostly from the shoes. It uses both used and new horse, pony, mule and donkey shoes. Brown explains that the used shoes start out being iron but are hammered into steel under the pounding of the horses' hooves.

Brown has refused to use substitutes for genuine horseshoes. He says his business has been built on the strength and sentiment attached to the genuine article.

Mass Campaign Funds Collected By Gen. Vaughan

sonally interested in Maragon's trip to Italy."

The notation was written by one of Mrs. Shipley's assistants.

Asked by O'Connor whether his financial records were available to the committee, Vaughan replied:

"Certainly."

For the most part, Vaughan answered questions in a pleasant voice but he showed irritation when McCarthy swung questions about 1946 campaign funds and brought in the name of Frank Costello, reputed New York gambling chieftain.

McCarthy wanted to know if Maragon at any time had claimed that money he was giving Vaughan for 1946 campaign purposes came from Costello.

"Am I supposed to know Frank Costello?" Vaughan inquired. He puffed slowly at a long cigar.

Vaughan asked McCarthy to identify Costello and to say what bearing he had on the case.

McCarthy said: "Frank Costello is a rather famous - -"

Vaughan interrupted: "Oh, the New York gangster."

He went on to say then that "I'm sure if Maragon had told me he got money from that individual I would have remembered it."

The going got a bit rough for Vaughan, too, over the question of his connection with efforts of the Tanforan race track to get scarce building materials in January 1948.

Vaughan acknowledged taking the case up with the housing officials—who gave a permit for the materials—but he denied there was anything improper.

McCarthy then mentioned the name of James V. Hunt, Washington management counselor who has been described as representing himself as a close friend of Vaughan.

McCarthy asked: "Did you know Hunt received a fee of $15,000?"

"I didn't know Hunt had anything to do with it," Vaughan replied.

Chairman Hoey spoke up to say he didn't think there was anything in the committee record to show that Hunt had received any fee in the Tanforan matter.

McCarthy said: "You never got any fee of course in connection with the Tanforan deal?"

Vaughan said that he did not.

McCarthy wanted to know whether Vaughan had ever denied any money from Maragon. Vaughan said at first that he never had and then reversed himself to acknowledge that he had got some from Maragon during the 1946 campaign.

Vaughan said he "probably" had gotten $2,000 from Maragon and that William Helis, who was identified with the Tanforan transaction, gave him $2,000 or $3,000 for campaign purposes.

Vaughan told McCarthy the money he had received from Maragon and Helis went to either Roy Harper, Missouri Democratic leader, of the Missouri Democratic organization.

Gifts from Old Friends

Vaughan had a 1,000-word prepared statement in which he made a blanket denial of any wrongdoing.

He said the seven home freezers which officials of the Albert J. Verley Perfume Co., Chicago, gave to him for himself and his friends were simply gifts from old friends.

One of the freezers went to

Mrs. Truman for the little White House at Independence, Mo.

Vaughan declared:

"There is absolutely no connection between this gift, and any assistance I have given these friends."

"At no time have I taken action as a member of the White House staff in exchange for a gift or other favor."

As for Mr. Truman's knowledge of what he has done, Vaughan said:

"In so far as I have given assistance to any business concerns or their representatives, it has been without any participation by the president in any way, either through approval or any knowledge on his part of the names of specific companies or individuals whose requests for assistance came to me and were given my attention."

When Vaughan had read his statement, Chairman Hoey (D-N.C.) bluntly asked him if, in connection with aiding businessmen, he had "ever received any fee or commission or shared with anyone else in receiving a fee of commission."

Vaughan: "No sir, I have not at any time."

Have Paper at Training Camp

The night before Jack Meyers of Sedalia left for Fort Leonard Wood for 15 days of military training, he said that he wished there were some way for Sedalians to get daily reports on everyday occurrences at Fort Leonard Wood while the 8,000 or more guardsmen from Kansas and Missouri were in training.

So starting last week, this newspaper commenced receiving a publication of the Fort Wood Guardian, published daily by information section, Missouri-Kansas National Guard Headquarters.

Besides daily events of the day published in the little paper, such as the major league games, etc., everyday occurrences at Fort Leonard Wood are published, in addition to predicaments the army boys get themselves into at times.

In one of the papers, Jack specially circled this ditty: "The 128th Field Artillery bivouacked last week a short distance from the artillery ranges out of the camp where they were to fire the next day. One important function of the bivouac was to camouflage the camp."

"That the results were successful is an understatement. A jeep from headquarters was sent out to the 128th. The messenger knew that the battalion was out on Highway 17, but the camouflage was so perfect that the jeep and crew, after traveling up and down the highway about three times without finding the 128th, gave up and had to report, 'mission unaccomplished.'"

Traffic Cases up In Police Court

Appearing in Judge Harry O. Berry's police court this morning was Gus W. Cannon, 700 West Pettis street, who was fined $25 after pleading guilty to a charge of careless and reckless driving.

Dick Crawford, Ottumville, forfeited a five dollar bond on a charge of running a red light at Broadway and Engineer avenue.

Donald Sedlock, 810 East Third street, forfeited a five dollar bond on a charge of running a stop sign.

Seventeen overtime parking bonds of a dollar each were forfeited.

Two Wills Filed In Probate Court

Two wills and letters of administration were filed in the Pettis county probate court.

Letters of administration on the estate of William George Lee were issued to O. W. McClain.

The will of Ella B. Carroll left $250 each to six nieces and nephews $1,000 to the New Lebanon cemetery association; $100 to Albert Long and the remaining residue of the estate was bequeathed to John T. Long.

The will of James K. Lacey bequeathed a 40 acre farm, located eight miles northeast of Sedalia, to his son George W. Lacey. He left his daughters Mrs. Annabel Cady, Mrs. Mary T. Adams, Mrs. Lena M. Notson, Mrs. Ruth M. Breazeale, and a son, Felix E. Lacey, all the rest and residue of his property, both real, personal and mixed, wherever situated, in equal parts.

Two Days To Enroll Jefferson school will be opened Thursday and Friday from 9:00 o'clock to 4:00 o'clock for first grade entrance.

OBITUARIES

John A. Bradford

John A. Bradford, route 3, Sedalia, well known Pettis county farmer, died at his home two and one-half miles west of Sedalia on highway 50, at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening. His death followed a lingering illness.

He was born October 1, 1863, near Bolivar, Mo., the son of the late Dr. John T. and Martha Owens Bradford. He spent his early life in Mountain Home, Ark., and attended Mountain Home college there. On November 25, 1888, he married Minnie Jane Price of Paris, Mo., who survives him. They spent their early married life in Cooper county, later moving to Pettis county where they have resided for 38 years.

Mr. Bradford was a member of the Fifth Street Methodist church of Sedalia, and the Modern Woodmen of America.

Surviving him besides his widow are five children: Dr. O. F. Bradford of Columbia, Mo.; Mrs. R. M. James of Mansfield, Ohio; Dr. W. L. Bradford of Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. William Finley of Sedalia, and Mrs. S. E. Epperson of St. Louis. The entire family, with the exception of Dr. W. L. Bradford, was at the home at the time of his death.

Five grandchildren and two great grandchildren also survive. He was preceded in death in 1927 by a daughter, Miss Marie Bradford.

Funeral services will be held at 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Gillespie funeral home.

Palbearers will be: Emmett Turner, Roy Petty, Tom Yeater, Elmer Meves, Carl Romig and Bryan Howe.

Interment will be made in the Crown Hill cemetery.

The body will remain at the funeral home until time of services.

Francis Dunn

Francis Dunn, age 57, of Spring Fork, died at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at Bothwell hospital, where he had been a patient since last Tuesday. Death was attributed to a heart ailment.

Mr. Dunn was born at Spring Fork, the son of Thomas and Bridget Dunn, and spent his entire life in and around that community. He lived with his sister on the farm of his parents, about one mile east of Spring Fork.

He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic church of Spring Fork.

He is survived by one brother, Joe Dunn, 1500 West Second street, and two sisters, Miss Margaret Dunn of the home, and Mrs. George Schuber, 128 South Park avenue.

Funeral services will be held at the St. Patrick Catholic church in Spring Fork, conducted by Father Owens. The time has not been set, pending the arrival of relatives.

Interment will be made in the Spring Fork cemetery.

The body will remain at the McLaughlin funeral chapel until time of services.

The rosary will be recited the evening preceding the services, at the McLaughlin chapel.

William A. McCoy

Mrs. L. A. Spencer of the Terry hotel, is in Kansas City, called there by the death of her father William A. McCoy, 92 years old, a former Sedalian, who died at his home, 2738 Harrison in Kansas City Saturday.

Mr. McCoy lived for many years in Sedalia and was employed at the Missouri Pacific old shops. He later went to Kansas City and before his retirement in 1924 was foreman of the Rose-dale roundhouse of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad. He was a member of the Westport Masonic lodge and the Modern Woodmen of America. He had been in failing health three years.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Lucias A. Spencer, Sedalia; Mrs. David A. Beatty and Mrs. John E. Davidson of the home.

Private funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Newcomer chapel in Kansas City.

The body was cremated and the ashes buried in Mt. Moriah cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. Kahn

Funeral services for Mrs. Flora Kahn, widow of the late Sylvain Kahn, who died at her home, 421 West Sixth street, at 7:15 o'clock Sunday night, were held at 11:30 o'clock this morning at the McLaughlin funeral chapel with Rabbi Hirschfeld of Kansas City, officiating.

Palbearers were Harry Kanter, Kenneth Love, Philip Kaun, David Elliott, Abe Rosenthal and Morris Sagaloff.

Burial was in the Hebrew Union cemetery.

Funeral of D. W. Gwinner

Graveside services were held at the Masonic cemetery in Tipton, at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon for David D. Gwinner who died in St. Louis Thursday, August 25.

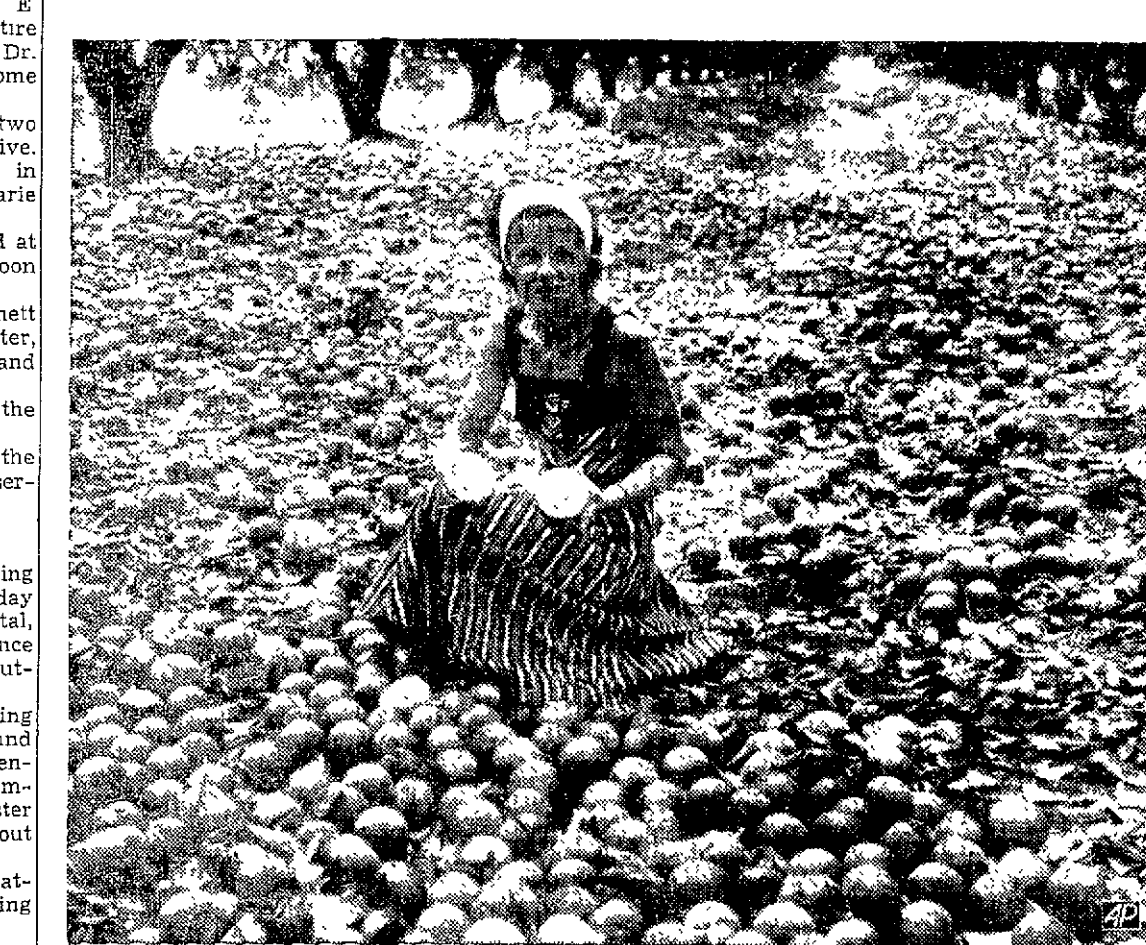

The body was brought by train to Jefferson City Saturday evening. From there it was taken to Tipton by hte Richards funeral

Suspect Bound Over To Court

ALBANY, Mo., Aug. 30—(P)—Freddie McQuinn, charged with the slaying of Miss Mary Hammer, rural recluse, was bound over to the September term of Gentry county circuit court Monday.

Magistrate Paul Brown ordered McQuinn held without bond until he appears in circuit court. The September term is scheduled to begin Sept. 5.

Mrs. Hammer was slain last January in her home southwest of Stanberry, Mo. McQuinn, 34, and Harold Emrich, 21, are charged with the slaying. Emrich's mother, Mrs. Elsie Emrich, and three other persons have been charged with burglary and larceny or receiving and disposing of stolen money in connection with the murder and robbery of Mrs. Hammer.

Emrich's brother, Earl Emrich, 23, was sentenced last April 22 to eight years imprisonment after pleading guilty to burglary and larceny in the robbery of the victim's home.

Officers estimated that nearly $6,000 in old currency and old coins were taken from the home.

Gambling Grandmother Undergoes Treatment

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 30—(P)—The gambling grandmother of Gardena was sent back to jail Monday for six months of treatment rather than punishment.

Mrs. Sula Bell Stimson, 49, admitted in court that she had discontinued treatments of glutamic acid and had relapsed into her craving for gambling and writing checks to cover losses.

She said she didn't have a desire to gamble as long as she took the treatments.

Superior Judge Fred Miller revoked her probation, in sentencing her said he was doing so "to protect her from illegal practices and merchants from check-cashing, rather than as punishment."

Mrs. Stimson was convicted last November of writing bad checks to cover gambling losses, placed on probation and arrested again last April.

Dr. Marcus Crahan, jail physician, said she had undergone a personality change—from a normal, devoted housewife to a woman with a craving for gambling—and doses of 12 grams of glutamic acid daily might restore her original personality. He called her 40 percent cured when she was released in June.

Report Of Kidnaping

MILAN, Mo., Aug. 30 — (P)—A Milan man's story of being slugged and kidnaped last Thursday by a "seven-foot" Negro and a white man and woman was reported Monday to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Dwight Brantley, FBI special agent in Kansas City, said he was told today by Sullivan County Sheriff Artis Franklin that Raymond Collins, 31, said he was dragged from his delivery truck here Thursday and turned up Sunday at the home of an uncle in Amarillo, Tex.

The sheriff reported that Collins, who flew from Amarillo to Kansas City with his uncle today, collapsed while being driven to his home here. Franklin said Collins is now in the hospital here.

The sheriff said Collins told him this story:

He left Milan Thursday morning to make deliveries. He was stopped on the highway by a seven-foot Negro, who was accompanied by a white man and woman, and they dragged him from his truck and slugged him. They placed him in another vehicle and drove away.

As a result of the slugging, he was unable to remember what followed until he turned up in Wichita Falls, Tex. He went to Amarillo, where he contacted his uncle, E. W. Collins, who notified his wife and authorities.

Collins' wife received four postcards from the alleged kidnapers while the man was missing, the sheriff said. The cards bore notes assuring the wife that Collins was alright and "would have a long walk home." The Cards were postmarked in Kansas City and Chandler, Okla.

The sheriff said Collins will be questioned further when his condition permits.

"Stripped To The Bone"
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30—(P)—A minimum wage bill "stripped to the bone" to avoid a long fight was brought up in the Senate Monday.
Its main provision would raise minimum wages from the present 40 to 75 cents an hour.
Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) told the Senate that in order to get this provision past congress, the Senate labor committee had side-tracked other controversial provisions and had abandoned efforts at this session to broaden coverage under the wage-hour law.

Two Passengers "Take" A Cab
KANSAS CITY, Kas., Aug. 30—(P)—A cab driver, answering a call, pulled over to the curb in front of the Wyandotte county court house.
He saw two passengers waiting to take the cab.
And they took it—
The two men were deputy sheriffs who impounded the vehicle pending payment of $928.85 for delinquent and personal taxes, interest and penalties.

Civil War Veterans Meet In Their 83rd Convention

FINAL GAR ENCAMPMENT ON—National Commander Theodore A. Penland, Portland, Oregon, left, and Chief of Staff Albert Woolson, of Duluth, Minn., clasped hands as they attended church in Indianapolis prior to the opening of the final encampment of the GAR. Only six men, all over 100, attended. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 30—(P)—Crowds moved in on the Grand Army of the Republic Monday, and six old veterans found they Monday. They shook hands. Thousands thronged monument circle in downtown Indianapolis and it was too much for the two centenarians who managed to get to the ceremony from their encampment hotel.

Commander-in-Chief Theodore A. Penland, 100—perhaps the spryest of the six—stayed long enough to receive a souvenir album of a special commemorative stamp.

He thanked Robert E. Fellers, deputy third assistant postmaster general, then he doggedly told the crowd:

"Now we're going to have a last convention right here."

But the hot August sun and the close-pressing crowd overwhelmed him. Just as the U. S. Marine band started playing "taps" the silent spectators watched as a guardsman led him to a car at the curb.

Robert Barrett, 102-year-old Princeton, Ky., ex-cavalryman, decided it was a good idea and left in his wheelchair.

George J. Rees, Indianapolis postmaster, said stamp collectors already have brought a "land-office" business to the postoffice here. Feller said the stamps will go on sale in other postoffices tomorrow.

Rep. Andrew Jacobs (D-Ind.), the principal speaker, called the "stamp issue" a token to be credited upon a debt which we can never pay."

"The only adequate monument to the GAR," he said, "is a union that provides justice to all men, regardless of race or creed."

All except one of the six old civil war veterans went to the Veterans Administration hospital this morning. They shook hands with scores of younger veterans on the hospital lawn as gifts were presented to the hospital by three auxiliaries.

The absentee had a good excuse. At 108, James A. Hard, Rochester, N. Y., is the oldest of the 16 surviving GAR members, and decided to take it easy at the 83rd and final encampment.

Hardest of the lot is genial old Charles L. Chappel, 102, Long Beach, Calif. He refuses to take meals in his room and sits for hours in his hotel lobby, talking with all comers about all sorts of things. About politics: "Both parties are as rotten as rotten can be."

Most of them grumble a little about the attentiveness of auxiliary women. Albert Woolson of Duluth, Minn., the 102-year-old chief of staff, beat one solicitous woman to the draw by asking her how she felt.

A woman's relief nurse admitted she laced an eggnog for Commander Penland "just a bit" when he felt a little bushed.

"The stimulant was just the thing," reported Charlotte Birdsell, Detroit.

Plane Crashes Near Grandstand

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark., Aug. 30—(P)—A light, two seated airplane plowed into a residential area street here last afternoon. It narrowly missed hitting a grandstand full of persons at a forestry pageant.

The pilot, Bill Stanley of Clinton, Ark., walked away from the wrecked aircraft. He was taken to a hospital at nearby Batesville, Ark., for a checkup, however.

The plane was preparing to land at a small airport near this Ozark mountain city's fair grounds. A control cable snapped, Stanley later said.

He said the plane zoomed toward the grandstand at the fair grounds but he fought the controls and crashed into the street after barely missing a house.

Mountain View is about 80 miles north of Little Rock. It is the county seat of Stone county.

Sentenced For Beating Printer

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 30—(P)—Charles L. (Chick) Rains, 41-year-old Springfield taxicab driver and former prizefighter, was sentenced to six months in jail for beating up a Springfield News and Leader printer Aug. 9. Rains admitted in magistrate court that he smashed Kenneth Weaver, 32, twice with his fists at a cafe near the newspaper plant but declared he did it in self defense.

Seven witnesses testified that Rains struck the printer while his back was turned.

Weaver, from Miami, Fla., joined the News and Leader composed the News and Leader composed of International Typographical Union printers July 11.

No Income Tax Assessment

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30—(P)—Treasury officials said flatly last night that World War II veterans sharing in the government life insurance refund will not have to pay income tax on it.

One official said the treasury's bureau of internal revenue has not yet formally ruled on the tax question, for the simple reason that no one has asked for a ruling.

But the bureau's top expert was quoted as saying the GI rebate is definitely not subject to a tax.

How to Play Canasta: 2

Here's What a 'Canasta' is

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

America's Card Authority

Written for NEA Service

The principal features of the new game of Canasta are the melding and the forming of Canastas.

Your melds and your partner's are combined, and one of you keeps all of them. You can add one or more cards to the melds of your own side, but not to those of your opponents.

The cards score for you if you meld them; against you if they are still in your hand when a player goes out. The card values are: joker, 50; aces and deuces, 20 each; king down to the 8-spot, 10 each; 7 down to the black 3, 5 each; red three's have a special value of their own.

The first or initial meld by you or your partner must be worth at least 50 points. After your score reaches 1500, this minimum goes up to 90. At the 3000-point mark, it goes up to 120 (game is 5000).

After either partner has made a legal initial meld as explained above, either partner may meld by adding one or more cards to a previous meld made by his side or by making any other meld of three cards or more. (Each new meld of three cards or more must have at least two natural cards.)

You meld your cards by placing them face up on the table for scoring. Each meld must include at least two natural cards. You cannot put down one 8 and a deuce and a joker. You can put down two 8's and either a deuce or a joker, and call it three 8's. As a matter of fact, you can meld two 8's and three wild cards and thus have five 8's; but to complete a Canasta, you must have at least four natural cards and not more than three wild cards.

A Canasta consists of seven of a kind. You do not have to hold your cards up until you get seven of a kind in order to score the bonus for a Canasta. You can start off by putting down, let us say, two aces and one wild card (no meld can be made with less than two natural cards). After the first meld you and your partner can add to those aces. Your meld remains spread out on the table until the seventh card is added, which now forms the Canasta.

When a meld is made that completes a Canasta, the Canasta should be gathered together. Before it is closed up, anyone has the right to examine it to make sure that it is a Canasta. After that, it should not be examined by anyone. If it is a natural Canasta (one in which no wild cards are used), you place a red card on top. If it is a Canasta made up of four or more natural cards and the balance wild cards, it is gathered together and a black card placed on top.

If a Canasta is made up of four red sixes, for example, and three wild cards, place a red six cross-wise on top. Then, when the first black six is discarded, exchange it for your red six.

After a Canasta has been formed, you may add to it. Slide the added cards to the bottom of your Canasta. Added cards do not increase the bonus for the Canasta, but merely add points for the added cards. A natural five-spot would add five points, while a joker would increase the value by 50 points.

Be careful not to add a wild card to a natural Canasta, because if you do, you now have a mixed Canasta, and you will be entitled to the 300-point bonus but not the 500-point bonus.

TOMORROW: "Freezing" the pack.

Floriculture

One of the top shows of all 1949 Missouri State Fair departments was the floriculture show. A little added money on the part of the fair management, plus a great deal of hard work and cooperation of the floral interests and garden clubs of Missouri demonstrated very effectively what can be done when superintendents work their departments of the Sedalia Fair the year round. The thousands of State Fair visitors on Thursday, setting a record attendance for any day in Missouri State Fair history, witnessed the judging of cut flower displays from Missouri Garden Clubs. The upper story of the Floriculture building was a mass of fresh color in white formal settings equaling the downstairs display planned and executed by a professional, Wm. K. Seafeld, "Paul Allen's Flowers," Columbia. He had the liberal aid in the "Flowers of Life" floral display of the following Sedalia firms Archias Floral Company, State Fair Floral Company and Pfeiffer Floral Company. Flowers of Life," featuring flowers or all occasions, was furnished by the Missouri State Florists Association and the Missouri State Fair, for the entire duration of the week. It is non-competitive. The flowers are refreshed or renewed each day to have a continuous display. A committee headed by George Curnutt, Sedalia, headed an active Floral Show committee, and James E. Smith, Jr., Columbia, has served several years as superintendent of this attractive department. No premiums were awarded in the commercial display. A "Tropical Island" of flowers and foliage flown from Hawaii for the occasion showed the skill of professionals in beautifying the building.

Patterson One of Golf Finalists

Defeated Gorrell in Final 18 of Their
36 Hole Match

Charlie Patterson earned the right to become one of the finalists in the championship fight at the Country club by turning the heat on Dick Gorrell in the final 18 holes of their 36-hole match, last Sunday. Gorrell jumped off to an early lead when Patterson faltered to a 41. Gorrell lead one up at the end of nine and retained the same margin at the end of 18. Patterson got hotter than the afternoon sunshine however and played the next nine in even par 36. He picked up birdies on the first and fourth holes, but skidded to a double bogie 6 on the yard eighth. After 27 Patterson lead 4 up. Patterson played the next four holes in regulation figures and then closed out the match six and four by dropping a birdie putt on the fifth green. Although this ended the match both players completed the round with Patterson picking up another birdie on the short tricky seventh. He finished with two under 34 giving him a sparkling 70 for his afternoon's efforts.

Match Postponed

The scheduled match between Alan Tawse, defending champ and Jim Darr was postponed until next Saturday. The winner of this match will meet Patterson in the 36-hole finals Sunday, September 4th.

Vic Scott and Pete Lamy will play 18 holes to determine the class A winner next Sunday. Scott won a 3-2 victory over Lawrence Barnett and Lamy ousted Tom Jenkins 5-4 to reach the finals.

Arthur Scott and Harold Dean meet in an 18-hole contest for the class B title. Scott won a hotly contested 1 up victory on the 19th hole from Paul Hedderich by a 5-3 count in the semi-finals. The special flight for out-of-town members promises a tight battle with Dick Wade and Danny Van Dyne going 18 holes for the decision.

Bob Sherman meets Gentry Patterson in the champions consolation final. Sherman won over Bill Gibson and Patterson defeated Chuck Yunker to reach the finals.

Three British Golfers Eliminated in Tourney

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 30—(AP)—Defending Champion Willie Turnesa makes his bow in the National Amateur Golf tournament today with the uncomfortable feeling that favorites aren't wanted around.

Three British Walker Cup players were eliminated in the first round yesterday and Ted Bishop of Islington, Mass., the 1946 champion and a heavy favorite, was hanging on the ropes when darkness suspended play. Bishop, a U. S. Walker Cup member, was four holes down to John Kraft of Edgewater, Colo., with only five more to play in their interrupted match.

This joust was one of 18 which couldn't be completed after a drenching rain halted activities in the morning. All matches were to be picked up early today at the point left off.

Double Play Action

Boston Red Sox outfielder Al Zarilla is out at second base as the Cleveland Indians' Joe Gordon sets the ball off for first base and another out. The play came when Birdie Tebbets hit a bouncer to Ken Keltner, who threw to Gordon for the first out. Gordon got it to first to catch Tebbets. The action came in the second inning of the Red Sox-Indians game (Aug. 29) at Cleveland. Cleveland won that game 5-2 and then took the second of a twin bill 5-4. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Baseball Roundup of Major League Games on Monday

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Feller's "comeback" and Cleveland's extra-inning magic are keeping the Indians in the American League race.

Just when New York and Boston seemed set for a private stretch drive, the Indians elbowed in by snatching three straight from the Red Sox.

The Tribe's success in thumping Boston in 13 of 19 starts could be the making of a second straight pennant. However, it also could pave the way to the flag for the Yankees.

Casey Stengel's men, shaken by the loss of Tommy Henrich, took new heart in the double Boston loss yesterday. The idle Yanks, in Kansas City for an exhibition, saw their lead mount to four full games. Cleveland is five and a half back.

Feller won First Game
Feller, now winner of 13 engineered the first Cleveland victory, 5-2. After the Indians tagged Earl Johnson for two runs in the first inning, Feller drove home a third in the second frame. It was his fourth victory over the Sox who have beaten him only once.

The Tribe's amazing extra-inning skill enabled them to pull the second out of the loss column, 5-4, in 10 innings. Ted Williams' 35th homer with one on broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh but Cleveland tied the score in the ninth and nudged Joe Dobson for the decisive run in the tenth. It was the Indians' 16th overtime win in 17 games, four over Boston.

Mike Tresh, reserve catcher who had not batted in a run all season, drove home the big score with a left field single. It was Benton's win on relief, the second important victory for the Detroit discards in three days. He stopped the Yankees Friday night and helped himself to his sixth triumph on one scoreless inning.

Detroit Beat A's 413
Detroit, trying desperately to make it a four-team battle, won its eighth straight by defeating Philadelphia, 4-3, in 10 innings. Pat Mullin's single broke up the ball game, giving reliever Hal White his first decision. The four-place Tigers now are only eight games off the pace.

Dick Kokos singled with the bases loaded in the ninth for the St. Louis Browns' 2-1 edge over Washington in their battle to stay out of the cellar. Cliff Fanning was the winner over Micky Harris.

Those St. Louis Cardinals came up with a big seven-run seventh inning at Boston, trouncing the Braves, 8-2, to protect their two and a half game lead over Brooklyn in the National. The Birds have whipped the Braves 15 out of 19 games this year.

Ron Northey's Homer
Ron Northey clubbed a grand slam homer off Bill Voiselle in the big inning as Al Brazie posted his 14th victory, equaling his best previous big league season.

Brooklyn's Jack Banta matched Brazie's six-hitter as he went the route for the first time in his brief major league career, downing Pittsburgh, 5-1.

The lanky righthander held a 2-1 edge on Duke Snider's tie-breaking single in the seventh. Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson homered off reliever Harry Gumbert in the eighth.

son's seventh inning homer was the margin of victory in a game witnessed by only 7,804 fans, smallest night crowd of the Polo Grounds season.

Homers by Stan Lopata and Andy Seminick in the eighth inning enabled the Phillies to top Chicago, 6-3, in a night game that drew only 2,802 to Shibe Park. Reliever Blix Donnelly was the winner over Bob Muncie.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 30—(AP)—Back from vacation to rain and rhubarbs — the U. S. amateur golf championship started with a bit of both, mostly rain.

Tommy Strafaci, scheduled as the first starter, got into a mixup over the starting time and nearly was disqualified. He finally proved that the clocks were wrong. "And I was here at 7 o'clock," moaned Tommy, who apparently has the Dodge habit of playing under lights. . . . Ray Weston, the Spokane, Wash., "dark horse" who started off with a 6 and 5 victory, gave his view. . . . point on the golf weather. "I'm used to playing in rain because I originally came from Oregon, but this is a deluge. This is my fourth pair of socks today," said Ray as he peeled them off. . . . For the records, they had to dig a ditch on the first tee at Oak Hill to drain off the morning rain.

'Two Platoon' System in Use This Fall

Offense And Defense Teams
Will be Used

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 30—Get your programs early like most everyone else, Missouri's football Tigers will be using a "two-platoon" system this Fall—one team for offensive, and another for defensive.

That's the intention of Coach Don Faurot, whose 1948 club used only a modified version of the anti-like procession from bench to playing field.

"The 1949 rules changes make substitutions when the ball changes hands, and the clock is running," Faurot says, "and that probably will be standard procedure for us."

Things Have Changed

"Last year, we usually switch three backs depending whether we were on offense or defense—but the line remained pretty much the same either way. However, this season we plan to substitute 11 new men every time the ball changes hands. It's going to be necessary to combat your opponent's fresh team with one of your own."

Believe it or not, Faurot sees less confusion if 11 men, who know which way their assignments lie, are rushed into line fray as soon as the situation demands. That's strictly from the coach's viewpoint, of course. . . . Not as much chance that way, he says, to an awful of the ordinary hazards of "multiple substitutions." Last year, with piece-meal substitutions, duplication of positions, yes and even 12 men on the field were not uncommon.

Some Exceptions

There'll be exceptions, naturally. Those men who play both ways capably will be relieved only temporarily—until they can be re-inserted in the lineup wherever the clock is stopped. Captain Bob Buchs at center, for instance, is certain to be operative on both offense and defense. He had more minutes of playing time than any other teammate in 1948. . . . And guard Gene Pepper is too valuable a lineman to be left languishing on the bench for "platoon" reasons. Among the backs, halfbacks Nick Carras and Mike Ghnoully are excellent double-duty players, as is fullback Winfred Carter.

So that's it. Don't say you haven't been warned. And meanwhile, let's shed another tear for the poor, bewildered radio announcers.

Byes were drawn by Jefferson City Taverns, Joplin K. of C., St. Joseph Goetz A. C., Springfield Tractors, Kirksville, St. Joseph Autos and Joplin Peerless.

Big Seven Football Practice

Rough Stuff is Expected to Begin
Almost Immediately

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 30—(AP)—Some 430 candidates, about 30 per cent of them experienced hands, report to Big Seven conference camps for the beginning of fall football practice today.

Checking out of equipment and picture making was high on the agenda for every squad with the exception of the Kansas Jayhawks, but the rough stuff was expected to begin almost immediately.

Kansas coach Jules V. Sikes has set Sunday as picture taking day, meaning the Jayhawks get down to serious business this afternoon. Kansas has an opening date at home with the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs, one of the early season features on the grid calendar. Sikes wants to be as ready as possible.

Sooners Are Favorites
Coach Charles (Bud) Wilkinson of the defending champion Oklahoma Sooners, who again are favorites for the title, had a full-fledged session lap for the afternoon following picture making in the morning.

The big squad, both in number of squadmen and returning lettermen, was scheduled to report to Oklahoma. The Sooners are carrying 65 men, 29 of them lettermen, on their roster. All America guard Buddy Burris and Jack Mitchell, a great quarterback, have used up their eligibility, but the holdover and new material still appears tops in the league.

The University of Nebraska Cornhuskers report at Curtis, Neb., for their preliminary work and the consensus is that Coach Bill Glassford will have a vastly improved team in his first year at the Husker school.

Missouri Tigers
Coach Don Faurot's Missouri Tigers, annually a threat for the crown, list 24 lettermen in a 60-man squad, one of the smallest gatherings the split-T inventor has ever called.

Kansas has only 14 lettermen in its 61-man squad, but the Jayhawks are much deeper in talent than a year ago.

Iowa state listed the smallest squad, 59, but coach Abe Stuber has 28 lettermen, second high in the league.

Kansas State with 17 lettermen in a 63-man squad, and Colorado, with 60 men, including 23 monogram winners, also got busy today.

Iowa state shares the early Sept. 17 opening date with Kansas, meeting Dubuque university at Ames, Ia.

Dodgers And Cardinals Win On Monday

Browns Took
A 2-1 Decision
Over Senators

By The Associated Press
The St. Louis Cardinals still maintain a two and one-half lead over Brooklyn in a thunderous home-stretch drive for the National League pennant.

Coming from behind, the Redbirds smashed the Braves 8-2 at Boston last night while the Dodgers beat Pittsburgh 5-1 at Brooklyn.

Northy Erupted

Centerfielder Ron Northy's unimpressive at bat this year, erupted at the place for the Cardinals. He slammed a homerun with the bases loaded in the seventh to account for four of seven runs scored in that inning.

Northy also drove in the Cards' first run with a single in the first frame.

That was the only tally they could muster until the explosive seventh. Going into that inning the Braves led 2-1 behind the pitching of Bill Voiselle.

Grand Slammer

The grand slammer was Northy's sixth homerun of the season and the Redbird's 11th in five games.

By their victory the Cardinals extended their winning streak to five straight, three of these in Boston, where they have won eight out of 10 this year.

Lefthander Al Brazie held the Braves to six hits. He permitted no walks and registered four strikeouts as he chalked up his 14th triumph of the year against only three losses.

Voiselle, credited with the Braves' defeat, was relieved in the seventh by Bob Rogie and then Red Barrett finished.

The Cards have won 11 games out of 17 on this trip.

St. Louis Browns
In St. Louis, the Browns took a thrilling 2-1 decision over the Washington Senators, giving them two games to one in the series.

Righthfielder Dick Kokos starred for the browns by smashing out three hits which accounted for both St. Louis scores. Cliff Fanning took mound honors, limiting Washington to five hits.

Who is the Best Pitcher In Baseball?

NEW YORK, Aug. 30—(AP)—Who is the best pitcher in baseball?

Preacher Roe of the Dodgers—on the basis of his stunginess with earned runs — says a copyrighted article published today in the September issue of Baseball Digest.

The Digest's figures, prepared well in advance to meet magazine deadlines, covered the first half of the season. Official figures published by the leagues do not appear until December.

In his first 13 games, Roe gave up only 2.41 earned runs per nine innings, according to the magazine's tabulations. That led regular pitchers in both leagues, although a few relievers could sport a better mark.

Tops in the American league was Vic Raschi of the Yankees with an average of 2.64.

Mel Parnell of the Boston Red Sox — the only 20 game winner so far in either league — had a 3.08 earned run average.

Hopes To Set New Motorcycle Record

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Aug. 30—(AP)—Noel Pope hopes to ride a motorcycle faster than one has ever been driven before. Within the week he will make an attempt across these dazzling salt flats to reach a speed of 200 miles an hour.

The wiry, 39-year-old cyclist from Surbiton, Surrey, England, is full of enthusiasm for the chances of his British-built cycle. He says he is certain he can break the world's record of 174 miles per hour. And he is almost equally confident that he can add at least another 26 miles per hour to that figure.

His confidence stems, he says, from two things—a stream-lined shell which will encase him and his cycle on the speed run, and the glistening smooth surface of these immense salt beds.

Pope's special egg-shaped shell is made of steel and aluminum alloy. It completely surrounds him and his cycle. He enters it through a hatch-like door, similar to that on an airplane cockpit, locking it from the inside.

Fourteen Teams Ousted From Semi-Pro Tourney

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 30—(AP)—The starting fields of 32 teams in the National Semi-Pro baseball tournament will be cut in half by the end of tonight's play.

Fourteen teams already have been ousted since the double elimination tournament began Aug. 19. Two more teams will be eliminated tonight.

The Fort Wayne, Ind., General Electrics, the defending champions, edged past their first tough opponent in last night's play. They beat the Weimar, Texas,

Shirley Finds Teen- Agers the Same The World Over

By Shirley May France
(Copyright, 1949, by NEA Service, Inc.)

DOVER, England, Aug. 30 —A reporter asked me whether I considered myself a representative of American teen-agers. I have never really thought of myself that way but I suppose that anyone who goes abroad as an American does stand for certain things in the eyes of foreigners.

I know how curious we are back home when someone from Italy or France or England comes to town. We want to know all about them no matter who they are. If they are celebrities, why the curiosity is even worse. I'm afraid I've become a sort of celebrity here — at least I can hardly pick up a newspaper without finding my name or picture in it.

So I suppose people do look me over to see what makes me tick, in the belief that what I do is par for most American teenage girls. At the same time I've been looking over the girls my own age here and in France, so we're even. Maybe I'm wrong, but my trip is beginning to convince me that teen-agers are the same deep down all the world around.

We may look or act differently on the surface but I think we react almost the same to the same situation. I turn green with envy when I see how lovely and fashionable French girls always seem to look — I mean those who can afford it. Also I admire, the calm, grown-up air the British girls acquire by the time they are my age — 17.

Yet I know they admire a lot of the things I have and wear — even though I wouldn't call myself one of the ten best-dressed girls in Somerset, Mass. But I do have some lovely frocks I got in New York.

One British girl was telling me about my wardrobe and she added: "But do you know what I like best?"

I said I didn't.
"Well," she said, "I like the way you aren't embarrassed no matter how many boys and men you meet. I think American girls are the most composed anywhere."

That's true, I think. I notice that the American girls are mostly breezy smiling when they meet new people. The French are very reserved. The British girls want to be just as friendly but they don't seem to break down into friendship as easily as we do back home.

But when it comes to boy friends, dates and things like that, I think teen-agers are really sisters under the skin.
